BRITISH REPLY TO MILLERAND

Paris, April 12.—The Earl of Derby, British Ambassador to France, delivered to Premier Millerand at 1 o'clock this afternoon the British reply to the French Premier's note of last evening. M. Millerand refused to discuss the contents of the note with the newspaper correspondents.

MILLERAND'S IDEAS

Paris, April 12.—(By the Associated Press).—Nothing has as yet been decided as to Premier's Millerand's attendance at the Supreme Council meeting at San Remo, and it was declared this morning in a reliable source that if the conference there is to discuss the misunderstanding between France and Great Britain he will not go at all.

A personal talk on the subject with Premier Lloyd George would be welcomed by the French Premier if M. Lloyd George could find it convenient to visit Paris, but it is considered official circles that as the point at issue interests France and Great Britain only, it is needless to discuss it with the representatives of the other powers.

French explanations which may indicate the differences of opinion between Britain and France accompanied Premier's answer to Premier Millerand's latest note, according to the Paris Press.

Millerand has been asked by the British Ambassador when he was going to San Remo, and the French Premier replied he would probably leave on April 19, but would not definitely settle the date until he had seen the reception given to his latest note, to say the Echo de Paris.

The British Ambassador has indicated that he intends to postpone any declaration on the situation in the Chamber of Deputies until the conference with Great Britain is settled, the Echo de Paris is settled.

VERY FAST SELLER
Debentures Were Quickly Bought Up.
When the city sold two issues of debentures, amounting to almost a couple of weeks ago, at a price that yielded to the purchaser a handsome profit, it was not long before the market was flooded with them. The result was a sharp decline in price, and the debentures were quickly bought up. This is a good thing for the city, as it shows that the public is interested in its financial affairs.

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MEN ORGANIZE

Cost of Building Must Be Kept at Reasonable Figure.

FIGHT DEMANDS

When Wage Increases Are Such As They Are at Present.

Final details of organization were completed Saturday night at the Connaught Hotel, and Hamilton takes its place with Montreal, Tor., Ottawa, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver, and practically all the other Canadian cities of any size, in the Association of Canadian Building and Construction Industries.

This National Association was formed over a year ago, and already grivings have been made in the direction of standardizing construction work, and bettering conditions for those actively engaged in building pertaining to it. The association aims at organizing the building industry from coast to coast, and realizing that there are three fields of action, namely, local, provincial and national, it has laid down lines for organization that will have the effect of protecting the interests of the cities, that these cities will then combine into proper and the province by appointing three men each to the national council, will work up through to the National Council.

Already this year the National Council, has taken the question of having organized later appointing a standing committee for the whole of the country, to work with a standing committee of the Association, for the purpose of first, replacing the system of the building industry being promoted to the various grades. The National body will also take the initiative in the adoption of a standard form of contract to be used throughout the country. Four contractors have been named, one from Calgary, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal, who will work out with two representatives of the Engineering Institute of Canada, and two representatives of the building industry, assisted by legal talent on both sides, a form of contract will be drawn up, and a factory to all parties, and which will do away with some of the objectionable features of the existing form. "Canada for the Canadians" is at once a slogan with the Canadians, but so long as there are Canadian materials available, Canadian engineers and architects, and Canadian construction companies ready to do the work, the association feels that the whole industry should be exerted to encourage this tendency on the part of the building industry to build up the country from time to time, to go outside of this country for their material and labor.

IRISH HUNGER STRIKE IS CAUSING GRAVE TROUBLES

Officials of Irish Trades Congress and Labor Party Call a General Strike

Sinn Feiners Will Appeal Their Case to the Peace Conference

(A. P. Special Cable.) Dublin, April 12.—The officials of the Irish Trades Union Congress and the Labor Party today issued a statement to the workers of Ireland for a general strike throughout the country tomorrow, as a protest against the treatment of political prisoners. The statement said that the demand for the release of those imprisoned for political offenses.

The general strike call will not affect those employed on newspapers, the telegraph service, and the humanitarian services and necessary workers among the horses and cattle.

Paris, April 12.—George Gavan Duffy, Sinn Fein member of Parliament, and one of the Irish Republic in the Peace Conference, is bringing to the official attention of that body the treatment of the political prisoners in Dublin. His step was announced by the following telegram, which he received yesterday from Dublin:

"Over 100 republican prisoners, incarcerated in Mount Joy Prison, in Dublin, as common prisoners, many being detained on suspicion without charge, have been on a hunger strike since Sunday, April 4. They demand a general strike."

"Several men are in grave danger, and crowds are receding prayers for the dying at the gates of the jail." The telegram was signed by Kathleen Clarke, of the Board of Aldermen, and Madame O'Rielly, of the Republican prisoners' committee.

SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE OUTLOOK BETTER WEST, WORST IN EAST

Brotherhood Heads See Gradual Dislocation West of Pittsburgh.

(Canadian Press Wire.) Chicago, April 12.—Developments west of Pittsburgh in the switchmen's unauthorized strike to-day were regarded by railroad Brotherhood officials as pointing toward a gradual dislocation of the insurgent forces, but in the east, where the walkout was joined in several districts by trainmen, the situation assumed a more serious aspect.

In the central and far west, numerous reports of defections from the strikers' ranks followed the report of the first important break at Columbus, Ohio, where the switchmen voted to return to work.

At Chicago, admitted keystone of the department, railroad officials were presented "terms for recognition of the strike," which included recognition of the new union formed by dissidents from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

In the settlement offer, proffered by John Graham, President of the Chicago Switchmen's Association, who called the strike, at least one radical concession was made for the return of the strikers for back pay demanded by the union.

CARRIERS PROTEST

Deputation Goes to Ottawa To-night.

Local postmen have evidently reached the limit of their endurance, and to-day will send J. K. Archer, president of the local branch of the National Union of Postal Workers, to Ottawa as a deputation, to interview the Civil Service Commission re the new classification.

According to the men, the new classification strikes a blow at the postmen, by reducing their annual scale of $1,110 now fixed according to the progressive plan, to the service five years prior to 1915 before the war, for the maximum. At that rate, it is claimed, men who have been in the service for four years and served so much time for nothing. They will have to begin their service again dating from 1915.

THE FUR TRADE OF CANADA - PAST, PRESENT & FUTURE

The possibilities of the Fur Trade of Canada may be said to have had its first publicity from the visit to London of Pierre Radisson and his comrade the Sieur Grosevelles. These two intrepid French explorers arrived in the great metropolis after a long period of adventurous exploration into the primeval North West, and it is to their enthusiastic reports that the "Honorable Company of Merchants-Adventurers Trading into Hudson's Bay" owes its inception. This company was incorporated in 1670, and obtained its charter by the patronage of Prince Rupert, who was looking for some reward from King Charles at that time in return for his military services in Europe. A request for money would have easily embarrassed the "Merry Monarch," but with his customary generosity in all things not affecting his private purse, he cheerfully signed away the trading rights of a continent. Fortunately for Canada this monopoly fell into good hands, and the outcome of this and a similar charter granted in East India Company have had such enormously favorable results on the Empire's trade that little further tribute is required in favor of well protected private enterprise. That the Hudson Bay Company has successfully survived many opposition concerns, may be largely attributed to the fairness of their methods with the Indian trader. Unscrupulous traders, principally from the border states of America, were in the old bad days, very apt to barter cheap whiskey for expensive pelts, a nefarious practice that was at last stamped out by the North West Mounted Police. While the Hudson Bay Company's organization entails the maintaining of big stores of commodities in the remote places of the North, the actual trading with the trapper is done with Canadian dollars, three pieces of paper being held in great respect by the Esquimaux, however rude and unlettered. Most of the big cities in Canada were originally the site of a Hudson Bay Trading Post, among others, Winnipeg, Calgary, and Vancouver, and it was mainly due to the enterprise of two Hudson Bay Traders that these cities eventually became linked up by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Donald Alexander Smith, and George Stephen, learnt the "Conduct of Life" in a hard school, but from their long periods of isolation in the barren, ice-bound wildernesses of the North they gained that breadth of mental outlook, which comes to a man in no other way. In his lonely fur trading post in Labrador, Donald Smith had ample opportunity to acquire the inwardness, the true intrepidity necessary to his tremendous work connected with the Canadian Pacific Railway; and as Lord Strathcona, with the melting of young Canada from a Crown Colony to its present status.

The fur trade of Canada is not the most valuable of her natural assets, but the present enhanced value of the pelts, and the fact that Canada is still one of the most productive areas for the rare and costly furs is attracting a renewal of interest in this pioneer industry. It had been estimated that eighty per cent. of the silver furs of the world come from

Canada, and the value of pelts of all kinds exported has risen from $1,317,335 in 1917 to $14,000,000 during the fiscal year 1918-1919. Beyond the taking and trapping of furs industry have, until quite recently, moved entirely out of Canadian hands. Statistics have proved that the American markets are absorbing an increasingly larger proportion of Canadian furs. New York taking $7,743,664 worth last year as against $3,765,555 to Great Britain, and $290,202 to other countries. A considerable quantity of these are re-purchased and brought back to Canada, both in the raw pelt and in the finished garments, this anomalous situation entailing a considerable monetary loss to Canada every year. The fur interests of the Dominion have been aroused to the point of action, and in future the Montreal Fur Auction Mart, a co-operative concern with $5,000,000 behind it, will undertake the disposal of these valuable skins in the country of their origin. It is to be hoped that this indispensable adjunct to not only the furs indigenous to Canada, but also the skins of other animals from other lands, so that the market may become a representative one, as in this way the numerous important trades necessary to the finished article will quickly develop in its train. It is proposed to hold three auctions a year, the first of which has already been held and proved a great success. Enhanced prices and an enormously increased demand have occasioned a somewhat ruthless exhaustion of the natural supply of Canada's rarer furs, and there are some persons who predict the complete extinction of some species of fur-bearing animals in consequence of this. Considerable attention has been given during the last thirty years to the possibilities of fur farming, and it can be safely assumed that this branch of the fur trade will be considerably developed in the next few years. An extension of the experimental fur farms established by the Government of Canada on P.E.I., and the inauguration of similar institutions in other parts of the Dominion is highly desirable.

French Officials Say Matter Will Be Easily Elucidated

London, April 11.—The British reply to the French note, according to an authoritative statement, declares the strength and success of the alliance depends on unanimity of action, and that there is a possibility of a compromise of independent action, the alliance remains unaltered. There is, however, a clear understanding on the part of the British Ambassador in Paris that the British Government will not attend any meetings or conferences in Germany, and that the British Government will not attend any meetings or conferences in Germany.

New York Also Badly Hit, But Fears of Famine Allayed.

Bernia, April 11.—Word was received here late this afternoon from Detroit, Chicago and Port Huron that on Monday a long line of motor trucks would leave these three cities to enter Ontario at this port to secure merchandise held up on Canadian railway sidings in Western Ontario as a result of the United States railway employees' walkout. According to a message from Detroit, every motor truck was being pressed into the emergency service, and nearly 5,000 cars have been turned over to transportation leaders in Chicago and Detroit. Sunday a number of motor trucks left this city and Port Huron, made their trip with food to Detroit, and most of the drive was made that if the strike continued it was likely that motor routes would be established from Toronto, Harrisburg and Port Huron to Detroit, and then on to Chicago.

Detroit, April 11.—A complete shutdown of Detroit industries is fore-shadowed by an announcement from the Detroit Edison company, that owing to the railroad strike, power to factories and workshops "almost certainly" would be cut off on Monday at 2 p.m.

Only enough fuel is on hand to supply current for immediate domestic use. Railway officials see no hope of a resumption of service until the men's strike, the company says, and all users of current are urged to practice economy day and night.

The company's announcement reads: "It is almost inevitable that we shall have to cut off all power to factories and workshops Monday morning. The committee representing Detroit's striking switchmen and yardmen told us that they would not be able to handle the various railways affected by the company's strike. It is therefore believed that there was no action as to the result of the conference."

French SEND REPLY. Paris, April 11.—The Earl of Derby, British Ambassador to France, this morning handed to Premier Millerand Great Britain's reply to the latest French note concerning France's invasion of the Rhineland.

The note is animated with the spirit of conciliation, according to a semi-official communication, and allows of the hope that within a brief time the difficulties which have arisen in the past few days will be smoothed over and that a representative Great Britain will return to the Ambassador's conference.

Chicago, April 11.—The first break in the authorized strike of railroad employees, which started the Chicago terminal district nearly two weeks ago, was reported today. The Pennsylvania Railroad voted to return to work tomorrow, in addition 500 engineers and firemen forced out of work by the strike, will be permitted to return to work.

Although there was no general movement back to work among the 40,000 men reported on strike through out the country, defections from the yardmen and all-to-day switchmen of the Pennsylvania Railroad voted to return to work tomorrow, in addition 500 engineers and firemen forced out of work by the strike, will be permitted to return to work.

Passenger traffic was affected very little, except in the New York area, where service was reported to be 50 per cent. of normal. Fears of a food famine in New York City were allayed by the arrival of supplies over the New York Central and the Hudson River Railroad.

Did Good Work, But Its Usefulness Now Gone.

Toronto, April 12.—"The tariff is a tax upon consumption, as it advocates open admit, and it is the most unjust conception, because it gathers most from those who are least able to pay," declared Dr. Michael Clark, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Red Deer, Alta., in an address before an independent labor party audience at the Labor Temple Sunday afternoon. "The tariff," Dr. Clark said, "makes the rich richer and the poor poorer. It gathers the tariff, instead of the poor, and the least from the wealthy."

EIAS ROGERS IS CALLED BY DEATH

Toronto Coal Merchant Has Passed Away.

Was Prominent in Many Businesses.

Toronto, April 12.—Death came yesterday for Mr. Elias Rogers, well-known city coal merchant and business-man, at his residence, Glen House, Deer Park, in his 70th year.

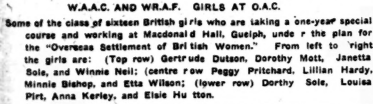

He was born in 1850, and at the age of 21 he entered the lumbering business. After turning his attention to coal, in 1876 he established a company in Toronto, which in 1897 became the firm of Elias Rogers Company.

And—Greater protection will greatly help to solve the problem of the "producers." The farmer who has been called upon to "produce—produce—produce," and yet every producer in the country is being asked to produce more than he can afford to produce.

When it is remembered that a tax upon any labor product is virtually equivalent to a tax upon the consumer which with a profit on the tax, enters into the selling price, it is easily seen that one of the best ways to decrease the cost of living is to repeal all taxes upon things made by industry.
